REPORT OF GOOD ROADS DELEGATES

THE BEST ROADS ARE BUILT UN-DER DIRECTION OF THE STATE.

HIGHWAY COMMIS- SION SUGGESTED

Oklahoma Possesses More Good Road Building Material Than Any of the States Visited.

Guthrie, Oct. 20th, 1909.
Hon. Chas. N. Haskell, Governor.

At the annual meeting of the Oklahoma State Farmers Union held in Shawnee, August 17th, an invitation was personally extended to the union for the appointment of its president and one other representative, to join with similarly appointed delegates from the states of Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana in a tour of eastern states as the guests of B. F. Yoakum, chairman of the Rock Island-Frisco lines. The purpose of the tour, as stated by Mr. Yoakum, was to make personal examination of the improved public roads in that section of the country, with a view of profiting from the experience of others in road building, and to promote co-operation of the various interests in the state represented in giving impetus to the movement to improve the country roads. The invitation was unanimously accepted by the convention, and in addition to the president of the union, Mr. Freeman R. Smith of Canadian, vice president of the organization, was selected. The president later found it impossible to accompany the party, but Mr. Smith represented the Oklahoma organization throughout the tour. By special invitation the following gentlemen also accompanied the party from this state: Hon. J. P. Connors, president of the State Board of Agriculture; Sam J. Hampton, associate editor of the Farmers' Union Advocate Review, and Clark Hudson, appointed to represent the State Good Roads Association. The other states named responded—Arkansas and Louisiana sending both president and secretary of their state farmers' union, respectively—and the tour was begun September 17, 1909.

The representatives from Oklahoma feel that the building of good roads is of such great importance to the people of this state, especially to the agricultural interests, that the state government through you as its executive head should be officially apprised of the tour of Mr. Yoakum's good roads party, and notified that a complete report is in course of preparation to be issued for information of the general public at an early date.

Bearing especially upon Oklahoma conditions with reference to improving public highways in this state, we respectfully ask to supplement:

First. Our observations have convinced us that the best roads are built under direction of the state, and we suggest the creation and appointment of a highway commission, with authority and appropriation to construct and maintain state roads.

Second. We find that Oklahoma possesses more good road building material than any of the states visited, and with this condition is losing millions of dollars annually by reason of bad roads. The state should co-operate with the counties in building local and lateral roads, with a view to establishing a connected and convenient system.

Third. Since the constitution of the state prohibits the working of prisoners by contract, we recommend that provision be made as soon as possible for working convict labor in construction of state highways.
Fourth—We favor the building, by the state, of improved highways across the state from east to west and from north to south, co-operating with adjoining states with a view to making them serve as a party of interstate highways.

Fifth. We believe that state aid by direct appropriation, in the construction of state-built highways, is fully justified by the experience of all the states that have adopted that policy.

Trusting that this may have your favorable consideration, and that the state will press the work of road building aggressively, we have the honor to be, respectfully, Signed, J. P. Connors, F. R. Smith, Sam J. Hampton, Clark Hudson.

CONFERENCE OF METHODIST PROTESTANTS

SECOND ANNUAL MEETING CON-VENED THIS MORNING AT AS-BURY CHURCH.

About Sixty Members at Opening Session, With More to Arrive This Afternoon.

The second annual conference of the Methodist Protestant church of the State of Oklahoma, convened in this city at 10 o'clock this morning in Asbury Methodist church, South, with about sixty members present.
The number in attendance is expected to be considerably increased by the time conference convenes tomorrow morning. President Luton called the conference to order and Rev. J. W. Shell was chosen secretary.

Senator Roddie was introduced to the conference and gave an address of welcome in behalf of the business men of the city, and turned over the city to the conference. In his address he said, "Use us as you wish, we are at your service, our homes are open, our tables are set, enjoy yourselves. As you help yourselves you help us."

Rev. W. M. Wilson of the First M.
E. church, south, gave a touching address of welcome in behalf of the churches of the city; pointing out the progress of Methodism and the rise of the Methodist Protestant church stating that we are all brethren in Christ; closing with a most touching illustration.

Rev. J. E. Brown in his usual genteel way responded in behalf of the conference, and expressed the thoughts of the conference by saying that the "people of Ada know how to entertain." His words met a hearty response of "amen" all among the members.

The conference sermon will be preached tonight by Rev. J. T. Phipps of Council Hill.

Rev. S. J. Oslin, a most excellent singer, is present and will have charge of the music and he desires to extend a most cordial invitation to the good singers of Ada to join the chorus.

DEALINGS WITH BANK FAILURES

THE OKLAHOMA GUARANTY LAW MAINTAINS CONFIDENCE AND PREVENTS RUN.

Northern Bank Fails and Wild Scenes Follow—Depositors Receive Small Percent of their Money.

Guthrie, Oct. 19.—Two methods of dealing with bank failures have lately been exemplified. In Oklahoma, the largest bank in the state, went insolvent. The state took charge of the bank. There was no run made on the bank, no excitement was manifested. The guaranty fund that had accumulated was used to pay of de-positors so far as it went, and realizing that it would not discharge all the obligations, until the securities of the bank had been realized upon, a special assessment was made and all the State Banks paid according to the amount of deposits they were carrying. This paid all depositors and not a dollar was lost to any person and the people are as willing to deposit money in banks now as they were before the failure of the Columbia Bank and Trust Co.

Some say that it is not just to compel banks that are conservative to pay for the mistakes of those that are not, but results show that the conservative banker can well afford to submit to this so called injustice. The assessment made is on the deposits and those deposits do not belong to the banks but to the people and the banks are making a profit off of the depositors and the more deposits they have the more profit they make hence they can well afford to attract depositors by guaranteeing the deposits. The country is benefitted by this because the money is kept in circulation and commerce is stimulated. Suppose the de-positors in the Oklahoma City bank had not been paid. Runs would im-

OKLAHOMA STATE BANK

ADA, OKLAHOMA

Courtesy, Liberality, Prompt Service and Reasonable Charges are the Cardinal Principles on which this bank depends for success.

It is our policy to stand by our friends mediately have been made on other banks, many of which would have failed. Confidence would have been destroyed and the little thread banks would have accumulated the deposits, confidence would have been destroyed and every bank in the state would have been hurt more than they have by the payment of the assessment.

This is the Oklahoma way.

About the same time of the Oklahoma City failure a national bank in one of the northern states became insolvent. Wild scenes of excitement following the closing of the doors and people saw the accumulation of a life time swept away. One of the officers of the bank who had labored for weeks before the failure to prevent it continued the labor afterwards in order to make it pay as much as possible until his overtaxed nervous system gave way. The suffering of the victims of the bank preyed upon his mind until, to end his miserable existence, he committed suicide. He was taken to his home where another death resulted from the shock. Lives destroyed and fortunes ruined follows what Governor Haskell calls this barbarous plan of dealing with bank failures.

Tuesday's dispatches tell of the failure of a California Bank of two hundred thousand dollars capital in which the depositors are not expected to receive more than 15 percent of their deposits. The question is, what system do you prefer? the one adopted by the "Zoological Garden of Cranks" or the one recommended by President Taft?

tendance. The Christian church now has 1,300,000 communicants.

AEROPLANE BEATS FAST TRAIN

WRIGHT'S MACHINE WITH LAHM AT HELM AND WITH ARMY OF-FICER PUPILS MAKES BEST SPEED.

Longer Flights and More Difficult Maneuvers Are Soon to Be Attempted by the Aviator Class.

College Park, Md., Oct. 19.—In six flights at the government aviation school, under the direction of Instructor Wright, the army officers, Lieutenants Lahm and Humphrey, demonstrated their ability to handle the government's aeroplanes, purchased from the Wright brothers, by the signal corps. Each officer accompanied Mr. Wright on three flights.

Before sunrise the aeroplane was rolled from the shed and, in what was practically a dead calm, Mr.
Wright and Lieut. Humphrey made a flight of over 11 minutes duration.
The second flight, with Lieut. Lahm in the pupil's seat, was the longest that has been made at the signal corps aerodrome, lasting for eighteen minutes and thirty-seven seconds. In both flights Mr. Wright permitted the lieutenants to operate the machine unaided.

The third flight was made in a slight breeze. Lieut. Humphrey again accompanying Mr. Wright. The machine was in the air for over ten minutes.

Mr. Wright, accompanied by Lieut.
Lahm, then flew for eleven minutes and thirty seconds. While the machine was encircling the field it was pitched and tossed by a ten-mile wind.

In the evening Mr. Wright was accompanied by Lieut. Humphrey, who handled the machine unaided through most of the devious route.

On the last flight of the day Mr.
Wright had Lieut. Lahm with him for more than eight minutes. As the machine sped around the field Mr.
Wright could be seen to take his hands off the levers and allow his pupil to guide the craft. He held himself in readiness to take hold of the machine at any moment and, when a sudden gust of wind of unusual force would strike the machine the instructor would grab the levers and bring the craft back on an even keel.

While flying about the aerodrome with Lieut. Lahm and Mr. Wright, the aeroplane came abreast of a swiftly-moving express train. So close was the machine to its rival on the earth that it appeared to be right above it. The disturbance of the air caused by the speed of the train seemed to effect the aeroplane, which swept down dangerously close to the earth. As the wind caught it and aided it onward it seemed to gain upon the train.

Longer flights with more difficult maneuvers are now to be attempted by the aviation class at the government aerodrome. Lieut. Foulis, the young signal corps officer, who made the famous Alexandria cross-country flight with Orville Wright, returned today from Nancy, France, where he has been as the representative of the United States army at the aeronautical congress. He will report at College Park tomorrow. It is probable that he will be added to the list of students of aviation.

JUDGE FURMAN TO LECTURE.

Will Deliver Five Lectures Before the Oklahoma Law School at Norman on "Criminal Jurisprudence."

Guthrie, Ok., Oct. 20.—Presiding Judge Furman of the criminal court of appeals has accepted an invitation to deliver five lectures before the Oklahoma law school at Norman on the subject of "Criminal Jurisprudence."

Judge Furman says the lectures will be used as ground work for a textbook on "Criminal Jurisprudence" in which the doctrine of harmless error will be prominently brought out.
The harmless error doctrine was a feature of the opinion in the A. N.
Byers murder case, appealed from Comanche County.

BIGGERS IS DISBARRED

THE SUPREME COURT REVOKED HIS LICENSE TO PRACTICE LAW

Biggers Claimed That He Could Not Be Disbarred by Reason of Immunity Clause of Constitution.

Guthrie, Okla., Oct. 19.—The Supreme Court yesterday revoked the license of Virgil Biggers to practice law in the state, sustaining the disbarment proceedings brought in that court on the grounds that he had confessed that he had been guilty of receiving bribes while county attorney of Pottawatomie County.

Biggers claimed that he could not be disbarred by reason of the immunity clause of the constitution. The syllabus of the court, however, holds that the provisions of Section 27, Article 2, of the constitution, granting immunity from prosecution for any matter concerning which a person may be compelled to testify, relates only to a criminal action and not to civil proceedings in which such transaction may be involved and that, under the Oklahoma law, disbarment is a civil proceeding.

After reviewing the charge that Biggers confessed he received bribes while county attorney of Pottawatomie County, and that he was compelled to testify to this, the court reserves a ruling on these charges but orders that the license of Biggers as an attorney at law be revoked and that his name be stricken from the attorney's roll of the Supreme Court.
The opinion is by Justice Williams, all concurring.

The opinion of the court is rendered upon an original disbarment proceeding filed in the court by J. L.
McKeown of Ada, a member of the state bar commission.

Syllabus by the Court.

The following is the syllabus of the court:

1. The provision of Section 27, Article 2, of the constitution, granting immunity from "being prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any transaction, matter or thing concerning which he may so testify, or produce evidence," relates only to criminal action and not to civil proceedings in which such "transaction, matter or thing" may be involved.

2. An action by virtue of Sections 232-237 (Sections 10-15, Chapter 7) Wilson's Revised and Annotated Statutes, 1903, is a civil proceeding.

SOME THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

Swatow, China, has been constructing concrete buildings and walls for hundreds of years. A French priest originated the industry when he erected a chapel. There is neither a brick house nor wall in the place. The reinforcing material is split bamboo poles, which, imbedded in the concrete, do not rot.

London's underground tubes have a total length of 145 miles.

England imported from Argentina in 1907 nearly $21,000,000 worth of fresh beef and $11,472,345 worth of fresh mutton.

Canada has twenty wireless stations, and new wireless service is being established between Prince Rupert and Vancouver.

Stuyvesant Fish began in the Illinois Central shops in Chicago at a salary of $25 a month. Later he worked as a station agent at $60 a month in his eagerness to learn the work from the bottom up.

The Wesleyan conference of England recently passed by a large majority a motion to admit women as lay delegates. This resolution must be approved by the synod before it can become a rule of the denomination.

A Swede has constructed an aerial torpedo which is claimed to be capable of destroying a fortification or the biggest battleship afloat. It weighs 22 pounds.

to exist in paying quantities in that locality as ascertained by tests. Foraker is located about twenty miles north of Pawhuska, but a few miles distant from proven lead and jack territory.

GAME CANNOT BE SOLD.

It Is Also a Violation of Law to Offer for Sale or to Ship From the State.

As the time is fast approaching when sportsmen may indulge in the pleasant pastime of quail hunting, we deem it advisable to reproduce for their guidance the law bearing upon the question of shipping or offering for sale any kind of game.
Under the provisions of law if you indulge your appetite to the eating of wild game you must either kill it yourself or some good neighbor must give it to you. The following is the law:

"Sec. 3. It shall be unlawful to sell or offer or expose for sale at any time any game animal, game bird or non-game bird, or the nest or eggs of any bird protected by law, except that all game seized under the provisions of this act shall be sold and the proceeds shall be paid out, one-half to the officer seizing the same and the other half to the state game warden, for the benefit of the game protection fund. Provided, however, that all live birds seized by any officer or game warden shall be turned loose in some suitable locality. Provided, that this section shall not apply to animals or birds held in captivity in accordance with the laws of this state."

Under the law game birds are the following:

"The term 'game bird' shall include quail, partridge, pheasant, grouse, prairie chicken, wild turkey, plover, snipe, sandpipers, ratiers, carlew, woodcock, ducks geese brant, crane, swans, wild pigeons and turtle doves.
It shall also include any part of any such bird."—Deputy Game Warden.

Resolutions.

Whereas it has pleased the all wise Providence to summons Professor Leo Butt from his duties on earth to the school of the great teacher in heaven;

Be it, therefore, resolved by the student body of the Ada High School that in the death of Professor Leo Butt we have suffered the loss of one of our dearest friends; a model teacher and a christian gentleman; that in the passing of Professor Butt we feel keenly the loss of one so thoroughly qualified to uplift the human race, and make the world better;

That the state has lost one of its noblest citizens, the church a devout member, and the school one of their most progressive teachers.

Be it further resolved that we emulate his virtues and strive to console our sorrow by the memory of his useful life.

Be it further resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the relatives of the deceased, and to the papers of our city.

PROVEN ECZEMA CURE.

A Trial Bottle of Oil of Wintergreen Compound is Offered at 25 Cents.

By a special arrangement with the D. D. D. Laboratories of Chicago, we can at present offer the D. D. D.
Prescription for eczema in a special trial bottle at one-quarter of its usual price. This oil of wintergreen compound will surely convince the most skeptical. With the first application you will get instant relief from the itch and soon you will see signs of cure.

No matter how many salves and other so-called skin remedies have failed, this oil of wintergreen liquid (unlike salves) will penetrate to the inner skin, killing the eczema germs.

STATEMENT OF EARNINGS OF
FT. SMITH & WESTERN ROAD
Guthrie, Okla., Oct. 19.—The Fort Smith and Western and the St. Louis, El Reno and Western, a continuation of the first line, today submitted statements to State Auditor M. E. Trapp showing their earnings on interstate and intrastate business in Oklahoma last year, but did not accompany the statement with checks for the gross receipts taxes.

With the exception of the Oklahoma Central, which submitted and paid its railroads yet so much as making a statement to the auditor of their earnings.

The Fort Smith and Western reports its interstate earnings to have been $306,823 and its intrastate $334-625, making a total of $641,448. The St. Louis, El Reno and Western reports interstate earnings to have been $28,293 and intrastate $48,390.

CHAS. R. DRUMMOND WEDS.

Prominent Ada Business Man Finds Charming Bride at Weleetka.

On Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. Charles R. Drummond, of Ada, and Miss Ruth Smith, of Weleetka, were united in marriage, Rev. J. D. White, pastor of the Presbyterian church at Ada, officiating.

About 75 relatives and friends attended the wedding. W. J. McReynolds from Paris, Tex., was the best man and Miss Drummond, of Shawnee, sister of the groom, bridesmaid, Miss Lindsey, of Okemah, was at the piano and little Miss Nena White, the flower girl. The house was beautifully decorated and lighted by candles.

The contracting parties were formerly from Paris, Tex., having moved to Oklahoma from there. The charming bride is one of the most popular young ladies of Weleetka. Her father is a wealthy cotton buyer there.

Mr. Charles R. Drummond is of the firm of Drummond & Lattimore, popular merchants at Ada. Though having resided here only a few months, he has already well established himself among Ada's leading business men, and won many warm friends who will extend a hearty welcome and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Drummond.

JIM COUCH WEDS.

Refuses to See His Sweetheart Return to Old Home in Illinois.

Last evening at the home of Pastor Smootz, Mr. James Couch and Miss Mae Leise, both of this city were united in marriage, Rev. Smootz officiating.

The bride has made her home here for two years past, and has recently been in the millinery department of Miss Lessell.

James Couch, the groom, everybody knows him. He was practically reared in this community and enjoys universal popularity among his fellows. He is sober, industrious and honest, and is proprietor of one of the leading transfer lines of the city.

It is reported that the wedding was rather unexpected, even to the parties contracting. The bride and mother were arranging to leave for their old home in Illinois on the Wednesday afternoon train, when about three hours before train time when the separation of sweethearts was about to become a fact, things took a different turn. Jim got busy. He decided that he would rather marry right now, than to shed a lot of tears at train time, and be guided to death by the boys, so a hurry up consultation was had with the bride-to-be, and, as a result, the wedding took place Wednesday evening.

Lambert & Harrison, brokers, claim that they encouraged Jim by offering him a cask of flour and a big chunk of breakfast bacon, and Jim called for his groceries this morning. The couple will make their home with the groom's parents for the present.

Everybody congratulates them.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. Drummond arrived today from Weleetka. They are rooming at Mrs. Barnett's on 14th street.

The Pastime has secured, and will feature Friday night the great Edison production, "Dashed to Death." A wild chase with two large autos at top speed, showing one actually driven over a cliff 300 feet high in plain view of the audience.

Sources of contamination of drinking water are many. Too often the family depend on the open dug well in the back yard for water to drink. Such a well is never above suspicion. It is a drainage pipe for a great area of earth if not sealed against leakage. Experiments show that a dug well in porous earth will drain an area whose radius is about 3 feet for every foot of depth. An open well 3 feet in diameter and 20 feet deep in ordinary porous earth will drain ten thousand square feet of land around that well. This gives decaying matter, animal and vegetable a good chance to get into the well through the pores of the earth. Besides if the well is left open at the top, as is too often the case, disease germs may find their way to the water through the opening. It is safe to say that more than half the wells thus situated contain animal or vegetable matter. If any reader has such a well and wishes to test it here is a simple plan: Fill a small, clean bottle with the water to be tested, and add a pinch of pure white sugar. Set the bottle uncorked in a warm place for two days. If cloudiness appears in that time the water is too "foul" for drinking. To detect the cloudiness hold bottle against some black back ground in a good light. A more reliable test, and one that should be made if you are not sure your water is good is this: Dissolve in an ounce of pure (distilled) water 12 grains of caustic potash and three grains of permanganate potash. Add a few drops of this solution to a gill of the suspected water, in a perfectly clean bottle. It will give the water a beautiful pink color. If this color changes to brown or disappears the water is bad. Suppose you make this test on your city water.

Examinations for Teachers.

On Saturday, Oct. 30th, an examination will be held at the county seat of each county of the state and at each state normal school building for applicants for conductors and instructors certificates to teach in normal institutes. Ezry's Interference

The windows and door of the little schoolhouse were wide open. A group of girls made dandelion chains in the shade of the building, and the few small boys who could be spared from the farm work paddled in a tiny brook under some overhanging willows near at hand.

"Teacher come to our house to board last night," said Jimmy Weed, the smallest boy in the group. "Hope I'll stand in with him like you did, Ezry, while he was to your house."

"Aw, twasn't 'cause teacher boarded there," spoke up a larger boy; "twas 'cause he liked Ezry's sister Marth'." Wasn't it, Ezry?

"I dunno, but that's all the good it done him if 'twas," Ezry answered. "I heard my sister tell him last night, 'fore he went over to your house, that she didn't like him, nohow. Say, maybe he wasn't mad! That's why he went somewhere else to live."

At that moment the tall, lank young man under discussion came to the door and rang the bell.

There was an unusual sternness about the teacher's face as the children followed him in. After giving Ezry one searching glance he took him roughly by the shoulder.

"What have you got in your pocket, sir?" he asked in a tart voice.

Now Ezry well knew that it always had been the teacher's hobby to keep an eye on the boys' pockets, but somehow his had not been noticed in this way before. But Ezry's time had come at last, and now he saw the things dear to his boyish heart find their way, one by one, through the open window to the yard below. Then followed a licking.

The boys looked at each other knowingly; the girls wondered.

The bell rang at nine sharp as usual the next morning, and Ezry did not appear until the last arrivals were in their places. There was the most innocent expression in the world on his face, and—could they believe their eyes—a bigger bulge than ever was in his pocket this morning.

There was a moment of breathless suspense; then the teacher broke the silence:

"Ezry Grove, come here."

"Y-y-yes, sir."

"What have you got in your pocket?"

"It's my dinner, sir."

"A likely story; take it out of there and give it to me."

"I—I can't, sir; it's—"

"You can't; well, I can. And I'll tan your jacket when I've finished!"

The next instant Ezry was dropped and the exploring hand of the teacher was withdrawn, and something was sticking to it with the tenacity of glue. A yell broke from the teacher's lips. The stuff clung fast. Then, with hand beating and waving, its owner flew over the space between himself and the entry. His exit was followed by a splash, and then silence.

The interest now turned to Ezry, who had his face studiously buried in his reader.

"What was it, Ezry?" whispered Jimmy Wood, his nearest neighbor. Two dozen ears were strained to catch the reply.

"Mush! Hot! With a shingle behind it! Marth' put it up for me. Now shut up."

"Oh, gee!"

The teacher came in. Every one was busy, but the suspense was awful. The noon hour came without incident. When they were dismissed he put on his hat and took his way to the nearest house, which was Ezry's.

"Now maybe you ain't in fer it, Ezry!" said little Jimmy Wood.

"Huh, Marth' did it. She won't see me run over by nobody."

He went home and the boys waited anxiously.

"Say, where's the teacher?" they asked in chorus when he returned.

"Aw, he's over to the house. Marth's a-doin' up his hand, an' a-cryin' 'cause it's burnt. Girls is queer. An', boys, he's a-comin' back to our house to board to-night."

A Ludicrous Experiment.

Holmes was one of the many eminent men who have attempted to solve the riddle of the universe. In his case the result was ludicrous. From the sublime thoughts that came to him while under the influence of chloroform he thought he might arrive at some solution. Placing himself in his armchair, with pen, ink and paper at hand, he inhaled the anesthetic. As drowsiness stole over him the nature of things seemed revealed. By a vigorous effort he seized his pen and wrote—he knew not what, for before he had finished he fell back unconscious. When he recovered he turned with trembling anxiety to the sheet of paper, on which, written in scrawling characters but quite legible, he found the awful revelation: "A strong smell of turpentine pervades the whole!"

Generous Memorial Gifts.

As a memorial to his son Oscar, who died recently, Baron Albert de Rothschild of Vienna gave to the Jewish community of that city 10,000 kronen, and a like sum to the municipal government, the amounts to be applied to charitable work. He gave also 200,000 kronen for educational purposes, in the department of mathematics and astronomy, saying in the memorandum which accompanied the amount that these branches had been selected because the late Oscar de Rothschild had always taken a deep interest in them.

ADVICE TO COTTON FARMERS

Senator Smith of South Carolina Urges Planters to "Resist Bear Raid."

Florence, S. C., Oct. 20.—United States Senator E. D. Smith, formerly general organizer of the Southern Cotton Growers' Association, declares that the recent action of the cotton mills of the country favoring curtailment of production because of the belief that the prices of cotton were higher than warranted by the crop outlook was unfounded and appeals to the farmers to resist "the bear raid, since the conditions of the world's peace insures ready markets and all supplies are rising in value."

Senator Smith adds that reports received by him as head of a movement of cotton planters, having in view the ascertaining of the exact conditions concerning the present crop, indicates that it will fall far below last season's crop.

He gives the following figures: Louisiana crop half a million, mostly sold, balance likely to be held despite high prices.

Arkansas crop 35 to 40 per cent short; selling fast with no disposition to hold.

North Carolina about the same as last year; farmers able to hold.

Texas 40 per cent short; will make between 2,000,000 and 2,500,000 bales; obliged to sell.

Mississippi 1,300,000 bales; 20 per cent short.

Other states report good crops, farmers generally able to hold.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

SOUTH CENTRAL TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

Committee Meets Today to Arrange Program for Meeting Next Month.

The executive committee, composed of leading educators of the counties composing the South Central Teachers' Association, assembled at Sulphur this afternoon in executive session for the purpose of arranging a program which will be rendered at the meeting of the association on Friday, November the 27th, the day after Thanksgiving.

At the meeting of the committee today representatives from the following counties will participate: Marshall, McLain, Pontotoc, Hughes, and Pottawatomie. Other counties in the district will come into the association, but were not represented in the meeting which is being held today.

It is expected, and confidently believed, that in a very short time that every teacher in the district will become a member of the association. It is the duty of teachers to avail themselves of every opportunity afforded to better fit and qualify themselves for teaching; in fact, the patrons of the schools demand it of them.

Prof. Briles, president of the Southeastern Normal school of this city, one of the best educators in the state, is a leading spirit in this movement, and is present at the meeting today, which alone assures an interesting program.

225,470 BALES GINNED.

Records to October 15th Show Large Increase Over Last Year.

Guthrie, Okla., Oct. 20.—The Oklahoma state board of agriculture finds today that 217,357 square bales and 16,227 round bales of cotton were ginned in Oklahoma from the crop of 1909 up to and including the close of business Oct. 14. In arriving at these figures, the board has received reports from 563 gins and have added to this number 121 gins who failed to report at this time, but who had reported the amount ginned up to Oct. 1. The revised report of the ginnings to Oct. 1 showed 113,409 square bales and 7,433 round bales, showing that there have been ginned during the first half of October 103,948 square bales and 8,794 round bales. Counting round as half bales it will be seen that up to Oct. 15 there have been ginned 225,470 bales.

On Oct. 18 last season, according to the figures of the United States census bureau, there had been ginned in Oklahoma 132,556 bales. Nearly as much cotton is shown to have been ginned during the past fifteen days as was ginned last season during the twenty-three days from Sept. 25 to Oct. 18. The highest proportion of the Oklahoma crop ever ginned to this date was 46.7 per cent in 1902, in which season the total crop was 530,
